

NOVA PALM FOUNDATION

AID TO FILIPINO MIGRANT COMMUNITIES IN HONG KONG

On October 17, 2021, the Nova Palm Foundation collaborated with Filipino Migrant Communities in Hong Kong to distribute boxes of masks and gloves to other Filipino migrant workers on their day off. The foundation recognized the challenges that Filipino migrant workers face, particularly during the pandemic, and aimed to provide aid in any way possible.

With the help of the Filipino migrant community, the Nova Palm Foundation was able to reach out to a larger number of individuals in need. The distribution was done in a safe and organized manner, with volunteers from both the foundation and the community working together to ensure that everyone received the necessary protective gear.

The gesture was greatly appreciated by the Filipino migrant workers, who expressed their gratitude for the assistance. Many of them had been struggling to acquire sufficient protective gear, and the distribution provided much-needed relief. The Nova Palm Foundation and the Filipino Migrant Communities in Hong Kong proved that by working together, even small acts of kindness can make a big difference in the lives of those in need.

